

Nick Cummings

Portland, Oregon 97202 • nick@nickcummings.com
linkedin.com/in/nickcummings • portfolio: whymog.net

SUMMARY

An experienced full-stack web, game, and VR developer with a knack for designing and building meaningful interactive experiences

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Independent Game Developer, Portland, Oregon.....February 2014-Present

- Director of Trash the Planet, an upcoming story-driven strategy game about capitalism, ecology, and raccoons
- Co-founder of This Game Is Haunted, a tiny game-dev co-op; design, direct, code, and ship small story-driven games
- Contracted with Rose City Games to develop a comprehensive dev roadmap for an upcoming retail game release
- Curriculum designer for Portland Community College's creative coding and game development degree and certificate programs

Instrument, Portland, Oregon.....November 2018-August 2019

Senior Developer

- Designed, developed, and implemented key systems in several Unity-based VR apps for the NBA and NFL
- Worked with clients and directors to plan, build, and ship tech projects; mentored junior and mid-level developers

Squarespace, Portland, Oregon.....February 2015-November 2018

Software Engineer, Internal Engineering.....November 2017-November 2018

Support Tools Developer, Internal Operations.....June 2016-November 2017

Design & Development Specialist.....February 2015-June 2016

- Develop full-stack business apps that enable Customer Operations and Finance teams to serve millions of customers
- Co-founder, Internal Operations team; established code standards, design patterns, and review/deploy processes
- Co-created and taught Code Camp, a six-week bootcamp teaching beginners how to develop full-stack web applications

Nintendo of America, Redmond, Washington.....December 2013-February 2014

Marketing Production Coordinator (contract)

- Optimized newsletter deployment process; researched and developed eShop sale strategies to increase conversion

Facebook, Austin, Texas.....March 2011-September 2013

Specialist, User Operations.....September 2012-September 2013

Analyst, User Operations.....March 2011-August 2012

- Conducted user studies to help design a proactive and transparent memorialization system for deceased users
- Wrote and maintained a library of public-facing Help Center guides, garnering 100k+ views per day

Silicon Sasquatch, Portland, Oregon.....December 2008-Present

Editor in Chief

- Wrote and edited 700 articles and produced more than 70 podcast episodes on the cultural impact of games

EDUCATION

University of Oregon School of Journalism and Communication, Eugene, Oregon

B.A., Magazine Journalism; Minors, Digital Arts and Communication Studies.....September 2004-June 2008

Robert D. Clark Honors College, University of Oregon, Eugene, Oregon

Thesis: The Uses and Gratifications of Communication in Virtual Spaces.....September 2004-June 2008

SKILLS

Software and Game Development

- Full-stack web app development with modern frameworks (e.g., React/Redux, Vue, Postgres, Elasticsearch, etc.)
- Game and VR design and development in Unity/C#, including sound/music and 2D/3D asset creation/animation
- Narrative game design, direction, and implementation on small teams with tools like Unity, Twine, Fungus, Ink

Technical Program Management

- Scrum-based sprint planning and execution; codebase management; technical documentation; peer mentorship